Corporate Immigration Services

Raupach & Wollert-Elmendorff offers you comprehensive specialist advice in national and international business law. We are a commercial law firm providing a »complete service« to our clients. We rank among the largest German law firms, with almost 90 attorneys in seven offices throughout Germany. In Germany we are the associated law firm of Deloitte.

Our Corporate Immigration Services Team is composed of immigration lawyers and immigration consultants with long-standing experience in the area of international secondment of employees. All team members have outstanding expertise in advising companies and expatriates in immigration law matters and in dealing with public authorities. We maintain relationships with German embassies and consulates, aliens authorities and labour agencies to assure efficient and streamlined procedures.

Our team can assist with the secondment of your employees abroad as well as with all immigration needs for foreign employees intending to work in Germany, related to all aspects of aliens law, residence regulations and labour law.

Our Services

- Counselling and assistance with a view to obtaining business and work visas (in- and outbound cases)
- Applications for residence and work permits, including the preparation and submission of all relevant application documents
